from my store Mr. Davidson recently com-menced a mean attack on me in the columns sented. When two persons flatly contradict each other the one or the other must lie. Let us see who did so in this instance:

Mr. Davidson wishes the public to believe that I have sent "all my intricate watch work" to him personally. This is a gross misrepre sentation of the facts, as I will show. I have employed Mr. W. Goeggel, who does his chwork, to do my work occasionally-once when buying goods in San Francisco, on an occasion when sick, and sometimes son on commission only, and therere not strictly a clerk in his employ. Mr. potent proof as to which of us lies. On ex-foolish falsehoods in the vain hope of declev amination of these receipts I and that I have ling the public. Compare these figures with those of Mr. Davidson ($215 23) and see who flex. Again; the book in which Mr. Goeggel kept my account is his private property and Mr. my account is his private property, and Mr. Davidson had no right whatever to examine it. As to my being neither watchmaker nor jeweler, I will-leave that question to public Something of Interest to the Public. nt, although I may say I learned my sde in London, England, years ago, and although somewhat advanced in years, can hold my own in the former trade with any one, and the confidence my patrons have in me is a sufscient guarantee of my status as a jeweler In concinsion I will state, should this meet the eye of Mr. Davidson, and should he feel inclined to answer this, in order to draw out another reply from me, the gentleman can rest assured that I will no more pay attention to his misrepresentations, as I feel myself far above Mr. Davidson, either as a citizen or in business circles, and in all other respects, and as for integrity, I can refer the public to the l world, with pride, which I challenge Mr. Davidson to do. THE LAND MEMORIAL.

Senator Powning has introduced a memorial to congress asking that half a million acres of desert land be denated to the state of Nevada for purpose of internal improvement. The land will be chosen from government lands not previously filed on or appropriated. The authorities at Washington would no doubt be very favorable to such a measure and we think it would pass through both houses without much opposition. The people there think Nevada is a worse desert even than it is and we do net anticipate any great trouble in inducing them to release a few thousand useless acres to us. The present session of our legislature ought to make prevision for disposing of the lind to settlers who will irrigate it either by natural flow of water or artesian wells. For if the grant is made it will no doubt be made soon and it would be poor policy to be compelled to wait two years longer to receive the benefits. The old machinery by means of which the half million acres of college lands were sold might be put into operation again. The price was a dollar and a quarter per acre, allowing one person to sequire 320 acras and no more. The land better be given free to any who make them bear, but they should only have one season to do it in, so the land would not be tied up for speculative purposes. Provisions should also be made to guard against parties who do not intend to improve the lands themselves securing them with the intention of selling their rights to those who are anxious to do so. The best way, perhaps, to secure these ends, would be to charge a good round sum for the first application and that to cover the entire expense. The title to be transferred to the applicant upon his reclaiming the land, he to forfeit the money in case he does not do so. We hope that the bill will pass and we invoke the spirit of wisdom to rest upon our legislators while considering this important subject and aid them to pass laws which shall protect this new state from the miseries of land menopoly in the old.

MARKWELL-LAUFENBURG-In Reno. Feb. 24th, 1879, by Justice Bowker. J. P. H. B. Markwell to Miss Lou Laufenburg.

A Renoite's Speculation.

A large box, containing a pair of boots packed in straw, was sent to Rene from Mayberry's last Saturday. It came from Mr. Hollister and was directed to Phi. Bates, who refused to have anything to do with it, thinking Pete Comstock felt a brilliant idea shoot through his brain. He told several persons who were buy the box for little or nothing for a jeke, as he knew what it contained. During a short absence the boys took out the boots, replaced them with a pair of old, worn out ahoes, and replaced the box just as it was before. Shortly after Peter came sauntering back, and commenced talking to Bates about the box, which he finally bought for 21. Flushed and proud of his.

But the fire pump attached to her. Those who knew Mr. Barts will be sorry to hear that he died of this month at the residence of his widowed mother in Chicago. Mr. Barto was a popular man among his acquaintances who found him always friendly and open hearted: He died of consumption.

Ball at Huffakers. about the box, which he finally bought for $1. Flushed and proud of his bargain, Mr. Comstock seized a hatchet and opened the box. Instead of fine boots his prize contained only a dilapidated pair of ruined brogans. Shouts of laughter greeted this development, much to Peter's chagrin, but he gave in at last, acknowledged he was "soled," and set, em. up.

Yesterday evening as a party of boys were passing the alley that runs ok of the Academy of Music, they were startled by hearing a bullet whistle past their ears which was soon followed by a second. By mere chance of good fortune sone of the lads were injured, but the person who did the shooting was none the less to blame. Some persons coming down north Virginia street heard the shots fired and saw a man run from the alley directly afterwards. Whether Indian or white could not be ascertained.

A large and appreciative audience assembled last evening at the Academy Trials of a Carson Dutchman in Purenit of Music to see the Hvers Sisters. The performance was unique atcompany are superb. The members omi, whose simple, charitable minds only treasured the kindness and forgot the evil that was done them. To them freedom was a dream, vague and in-distinct, an abstract idea, with no real foundation in fact. When it came it struck them with all the force of a calamity, while to the younger slaves it was like epening the gates of heaven to their untried minds. The transformation is a little too abrupt; the formation is a little too abrupt; the transition from uneducated field hands to singing selections from II Trovature in a drawing-room is a wild flight for even uschained fancy. The singing, however, was elegant, the music good and the evenuess of the rendition beyond compare; but the culture was unmistakable and showed more the careful training of Boston than the wild freedom of Georgia. In his line wild freedom of Georgia. In his line, Kersands has no superior and very few equals. His dancing and humor-ous contortions are bound to make any audience in the world laugh, though his antics are sometimes out of place. On the whole it was one of the most satisfactory performances ever given in Reno, and one that will linger long in the memory on account of its con-trasts and peculiarities. The company does all that it advertisee to do, and does it well. They will apper in Carson to-night.

Fair at Carson.

The Opera House is crowded nightly with visitors to the Episcopal fair. The greatest attraction is Madame Jarley's wax works. The lady is attfred ig a dress which for variety of and is of a style to make our great body gave him money. He is now grandmothers jealous. The figures are very life-like and all their movements rery life-like and all their movements are regular and perfect, since they are supposed to be impelled by internal machinery which is wound up by an attendant. The subjects are drawn from ancient and modern history. Dickens novels and other sources are all carefully dressed up. The star of the company is John T. Pantland, of the Ormsby house, in the character of the baby upon being wound up "Pant" gives way to the most distressing bursts of grief until he runs down, when he with a huge oil can is the appointed ing. lubricator and shares the honors with the baby. His funny tricks met with a frequent encore. Financially the success has so far exceeded all expectation.

An Eloquent Lesture,

P. S. Dorney is stumping California in the interest of the Workingmen's party. He was in Rocklin last werk and spent his first evening at a blue ribbon meeting which he addressed on the temperance question. After the meeting he fell into temptation and got gloriously drunk. The next day he spent in bed appearing n the evening on the platform he began his lecture in thick and beery tones and got as far as "we are against Queen Victoria, we are against Emporer William, we would be against God Almighty if there was any money in it." He was then taken out an again put to bed by the members of the club.

An Old Friend Gone.

Many of the older citizens of Reno will remember George A. Barto, an engineer who was connected with the Central Pacific railroad running between Walsworth and Truckee. the time of the big fire he was running He told several persons who were the switch engine and slid good work standing around that he intended to with the fire pump attached to her.

Ball at Huffakers.

Huffakers is a place of sociable impulses; its people are hespitable and pleasant, and its girls - well, it is not good policy to make the girls of our own town jealous. It was intended to say, however, that a calico ball would be given at William Everett's hall, at Huffakers, on Friday evening next. Mr. Everett announces this ashis last ball as he will tear up the floor and change the hall after it is over. The music will be furnished by Prof. Scott's quadrille band. Don't forget Huffakers next Friday night.

-The ugliest scrub that evengface The ugliest scrib that evengfaced Reno came down from Carson to-day.
A rumor got a broad that it was Fred Hart, and a crowd speedily gathered to see the man who took the belt from a Ananias. Their interest in the homely scrap of humanity was suddenly distroyed on finding that he was only a Gold Hill chicken thief. THE RIVAL LOVERS.

Last Friday night a Dutchman, tracting attention not alone by its hailing from Carson, with a bury merits, but also by its novelty, countenance and a breath indicative of though the rich, full voices of the Limburger and pretzels, went down of the troupe have eaught the inspiration of the plantation, as it existed in that high-toned locality as a runaway tion of the plantation, as it existed in ante bellum days, and reproduced it with a faithfulness apparent to none so forcibly as those to the manner born of slave life on the plantation "Out of Bondage" is especially calculated to exhibit the depth and compass of of slave life on the plantation "Out of Bondage" is especially calculated to exhibit the depth and compass of the voices of the company, but there is another charm, which, to a man familiar with the characteristics of the negre race, is of far more interest than even the splendid singing. This is the life-like delineation of the loyal negre race, is of far more interest than even the splendid singing. This is the life-like delineation of the loyal character which is probably stronger in the African than any other race. Before the war almost every plantation had its Uncle Eph and Aunt Nation had its Uncle Eph

NABOB WHISKEY

Consumers are referred to the following ex-tract from the report of an eminent Public Analyst:

Analyst:

This is a pure barley and wheat spirit, remarkable in fragrant ethers, which impart a delicate arors, at the same time greatly increasing its value as a diffusive stimulant. The solid residue contains a large amount of tannin derived from storing in oak cesks, which imparts to fine old "bleky one of its valuable individual qualities. The amount of the residue proves the whisky to be free from the excessive coloring and sweetening so generally used in adulterating. In fact, in two words, it is the PUREST WHISKY, and will not only supply a poblic want, now that whiskies are so generally adulterated, but will be of the greatest value to the physician in those numerous cases where pure whiskies are the most useful of all medicine.
